

HON. BEN JOHNSON

Democratic nominee for Congress will speak at Springfield, Saturday, Oct. 21st, at 1:30 p.m., and at Mackville at 7:00 p.m.

The Educated Farmer Wins

A commission in New York has been examining into agricultural conditions and finds the farmer who is a high school graduate, makes twice as much money as the one who is not the college graduate farmer makes 100 per cent more.

It really is not necessary to have a common sense develop into to demonstrate this. Intelligence, which on the whole shows a pretty steady relation to education is now commonly accepted as a good thing almost everywhere.

Some commissions that discover a way to get the big school and college graduates live on the farms will be doing a much more practical work than the college graduate farmer makes 100 per cent more.

It really is not necessary to have a common sense develop into to demonstrate this. Intelligence, which on the whole are effectively. Being a capitalist pays better than many other occupations; but lots of people with a taste for it don't manage to break into this occupation because of a certain elusive quality about the capitalist.

Two Farms For Sale

I desire to sell private my farms situated on the St. Rose and Loretto highways. The one farm contains about 60 acres, all in grass except about 12 acres. Has good dwelling and all necessary outbuildings. The other farm contains about 120 acres more or less and close to a city road. Has small house on it and all necessary outbuildings. Motive in grass. Terms reasonable.

Hughes is Elected Germany may Repudiate its Pledges

The United States cannot exist half American and half German. Not can it exist if its elements are to be incited by organized groups of foreign sympathizers.

All other issues of the campaign are trivial and incidental compared with this. When it is possible for a President of the United States to be named with defeat because his foreign policies displeased Germany or any other foreign country, the American people are standing on the edge of a precipice, and the less they prize their danger the greater that danger is.

President Wilson performed a high public service when he clearly informed the agent of the so-called American Truth Society that—"I would feel deeply mortified to have you or any body else vote for me. Since you have access to many disloyal Americans and I have not, I will as you convey this message to them."

The American Truth Society is an annex of the German propaganda and is supported by the German Irish opinion on the side of Germany. Like the German American Alliance, it has been violently against the United States government in every diplomatic controversy with the German Empire since the war began.

To describe it as "disloyal" is to speak inaccurately and unsparingly, yet it is one of the active agencies by which the German public campaign manager hopes to defeat President Wilson. It is one of the active agencies which support Mr. Hughes in his campaign.

The German drive against the President is the most sinister development of American political life since the war.

Whatever partisan excuses Republicans may offer for voting against the President they cannot shield their motives to the accurate meaning of the President's defeat. The manner in which the German campaign against the President has been conducted makes it inevitable that Germany will interpret a Hughes victory as a German victory. The Imperial Government would be bound to recognize it as such and to deal with it accordingly. Every triumph that the organized German vote wins won in recent American primaries has been followed by renewed agitation in Germany in favor of a resumption of submarine warfare.

If the American people repudiate their President the German government can assume that it is safe to repudiate the pledges that the German Foreign Office has given to the President. He will have to be best of reasons for thinking that the German vote holds the balance of power in American politics and that no administration can survive except as it is subservient to the German vote. It will take it for granted that Mr. Hughes must govern himself accordingly and be a German viceroy. No matter how much he may protest to the contrary, it will assume that facts are superior to words.

There is no escape from this issue. There is no escape from the dangers that must confront the American people if they deliberately plunge their foreign affairs into chaos and leave the government helpless between November 7 and March 4. No people can do this without fully leaving war. No people can do this without leaving their own political disintegration.

DEMOCRATIC SPEAKING

HON. C. A. BROUGH

Nominee for Governor of Arkansas, will address the voters of this county at the Court House in Springfield, Thursday, Oct. 19,

Everybody Invited to Come

Living Cost Has Taken a Big Jump

Washington, Oct. 6.—Marked increase in the cost of living is shown in the rising tenfold of prices of foodstuffs on October 1, reports of which are just being received at the Department of Agriculture from the principal markets of the country.

With flour selling at prices higher than at any time since the Civil War, the principal cause of the increase of the wheat crop this year, the cost of potatoes has mounted for the same reason.

Most prices continue to advance prices being paid producers of meat, animals showing almost 20 per cent over what was paid a year ago.

Batter, eggs and onions all are selling at higher prices for this time of the year than they were last year, and beans show an increase of more than 50 per cent over a year ago because of the short crop. Onions are more than 50 per cent higher and cabbage more than 40 per cent higher.

Prices paid to producers of farm products increased 9.3 per cent during August, while during the last eight years these prices have shown a decrease of about 21 per cent, during the month. September began with the index figures of these prices 24.9 per cent higher than they were a year ago.

A Profitable Investment

Last spring a year ago, says Farm and Fireside, a neighbor boy was given 10 cents by his grand-mother. He purchased a packet of good cucumber seed with his money and grew a nice patch of cucumbers for the local village market. His crop of cucumbers brought him a little over $6 in money, all of which his mother allowed him to keep and spend as he pleased.

"With $1 of his money this boy purchased a few little things for himself, and with the other $6 he purchased a ewe lamb. By this spring his ewe lamb had grown into a mature mother sheep, and she gave birth to two lambs. So now the boy has three sheep from his investment. The mother sheep is now worth $10 and the lambs are $5 each making a total value of $20 he has earned with his 10 cents in a year and a half. Besides, he sold the wool this spring from the mother sheep for $2.40 which he has placed in the savings bank as the beginning of a bank account of his own."

The World's Wheat Crop

The world was just garnering a record breaking crop when the war broke out two years ago. The succeeding year it got feverishly busy and did it again. This year is a distinct retrogression. The wheat crop this year is estimated at $180,000,000 less than last year's or about 12 per cent. This is enough to account for the sharp rise in prices.

Most of the world's wheat loss is accounted for right here in the United States, which has about $250,000,000 bushels less than in 1915.

Public Letting

On the grounds at Pinkston Ford 1 will on Saturday, October 14, 1916, at 10 o'clock a.m., let to the lowest and best bidder the contract to erect a small bridge over the branch between the new steel bridge and turnpike on the North side of Chapman river. Bids for the substructure and superstructure with material for superstructure on the grounds.

The Neighbors Say

If he is regular in attending church he is too pious.
If he doesn't attend church he is on the road to perdition.
If he sends his family away for the summer, it is more than he can afford.
If he doesn't allow them a vacation, he is called stingy.
If he happens to be successful in business, he achieved success unfairly.
If he doesn't succeed, he missed his calling.
If the piano is silent why don't they buy a player?
If they have a player piano; it annoys the whole neighborhood.
If he gives freely for charity, it is for show.
If he doesn't he is classed as a tightwad.
If a wife does her own work she is "killing herself" for the family.
If she serves servants she ought to be more economical.
If she dies young, he led too fast a life.
If he lives to a ripe old age, he is living beyond his time.

Use for Prisoners of War.
Australia has discovered a scientific use for prisoners of war. Doctor Fuchs, professor of anthropology and ethnology at the University of Vienna, has been granted the sum of $300 by the government to conduct anthropological research among the captives of Austrian arms. He will measure their skulls, tabulate the color of their eyes characteristics subject their human appearance to the scientific "once-over" many times repeated. The good doctor is said to be highly enthusiastic

New Bullets Traces.
That bullet which killed him, his bowel, but, nor whisper, scurried to the contrary notwithstanding, is information given by Mr. Edward C. Cross was in Gutter. With one possible exception—when in certain conditions of open country modern military bullets bush to those standing back of the firing line—nothing is so subtle except a sharp crack of air cutting around the bullet's nose when it travels at high speed. At a velocity of 1,500 feet a second, or more, the noise is "like nothing so much as a long and very violently cracked blacksnake whip." Those who stand far enough from the site hear the bullet's crack and later the dull thudding noise of the rifle hit itself, which has been outstripped. Jack London makes a soldier hit at 500 yards the rifle first hear the sound of the bullet's nose and then feel the blow of the bullet, but the bullet would have killed him half a second before the rifle from which it came reached him.

QUICK CHANGES OF LEVEL

Lake in Eastern Washington That Causes Trouble to the Residents Along Its Shore.

A subscriber who was interested in the Companion's account of a lake in Italy that rises and falls in a singular and unexplained way has sent us some equally strange facts about a lake in eastern Washington. The town of Kahlotta is built on the shore of the lake, and since it was here nearly submerged by one of the lake's sudden changes in level, a dike ten or twelve feet high has been built to protect the houses against another catastrophe.

The lake is normally a quarter of a mile wide and a mile and a half long, but at times the water falls so far that the lake is nearly 10 yards wide. The fall is always sudden, and so is the rise that eventually follows. Only one small stream enters the lake, and there is no visible outlet, but the water is always fresh.
When the railway was built through Kahlotta the workmen tried to carry the tracks across the lake on a fillbankment, but the sand was swallowed up almost as fast as it was poured in. A dike was then dug to carry off the water through a tunnel into a nearby canyon. Half way through the tunnel the water found a crevice and disappeared into the earth. Where it comes to the surface again no one knows.

Our correspondent adds that on a ranch near the town of Kahlotta there is a deep well, the water of which at intervals of about two weeks rushes up gyreslike to a height of several feet above the ground—YOUTH'S Companion.

Kitchen Cabinet Not Hardy.
The kitchen cabinet must be antiseptically made, so as to exclude mice and vermin of all kinds, writes Louise Robertson and T. C. O'Donnell in Good Health. Carefully used, however, the kitchen cabinet is open to this objection, that it is too convenient. That is to say, its various drawers and receptacles are apt to become a catchall in which will be thrown a ball of string and a nutmeg or two and a box of shoe polish and any number of other odds and ends; and it seldom cleans with the result that dirt accumulates and the real end of the cabinet, health fulness, is defeated. Every part of the cabinet should be given thorough and frequent cleaning.

United States Gold.
The actual amount of gold in the United States at the present time is estimated at somewhat over $1,000, 000,000. The treasury statement of most recent date showed gold deposited in the United States treasury of $1,442,000,000, while the specie in national banks is probably $500,000,000 more. According to the last report the gold in the Bank of England was $325,000,000; in the Bank of France, $175,000,000; in the Bank of Germany, $602,000,000; in the Bank of Russia, $155,000,000; in the Bank of Austro-Hungary, $155,000,000; the Bank of Italy, $225,000,000; and the Bank of Belgium, $75,000,000.

Great Man Drives Horses.
While John G. Gervin sat dead on his back on the wagon seat, the tax reins hanging over his head, his stiffening fingers, his team of horses travels safely for more than two miles the winding valley road at the foot of Garret mountain from Lodi to Richfield, N. J.

Gervin, sixty-seven years old of 341 Passaic avenue, Lodi, was one of the largest contractors in that city for some years ago. He started to drive from his home to the Martine quarry at Richfield. Often his team had passed over the road to the quarry. At the familiar end of the journey the horses stopped.
